

IDAHO BOOSTERS SURPRISE LOGAN CLUB COMMITTEE

They Come Through With the Cash to Show Their Faith in the Highway Movement

The National Park Highway Committee of the Commercial Boosters Club of Logan, met with the Franklin county citizens at Preston, on Thursday, March 2, to discuss the establishment of the Yellowstone Highway from Salt Lake City to the Park via the beautiful Wellsville canyon, Logan, Smithfield, Richmond, Franklin, Whitney, Preston, and on thru to the Park.

Enthusiasm ran high. The Logan boosters and members of the committee say they never saw anything like it before. Approximately $2500 was contributed in the meeting within thirty minutes. A good number of those staunch boosters rose to their feet and said they would give $50, others living far away from the highway contributed cash and labor. This is a good example for Cache county people. Others volunteered to give thirty and forty days work with teams on the road. The newspaper men said the columns of their papers would be free to be used by the road committee to advertise this route. The commissioners from Franklin county said they would spend every dollar available in putting this highway through their county in first class condition.

It was decided to hold large public meetings all along the line and secure musicians and entertainers to get the people together, entice them and at the same time give everybody the opportunity to help in this great movement. Committees were appointed in every precinct to solicit for funds. The people of Idaho know what it means to have the National Park tourists pass continually thru the great Cache Valley. It was further decided to have this road properly dragged all along the line after each rain storm at the right time. Mud holes will be a thing of the past.

Each county through which the highway passes, will be asked to keep that part of the road in good condition. The people know that the cities and towns along the route will not be so much directly benefited by the tourists, but the tourists will note our wonderful resources. Some will stop and look around; others will buy land and make investments, and locate here, others will advertise us, and tell their neighbors about what they saw while passing through Cache Valley.

Our Logan Boosters will now ask Richmond, Smithfield, Hyde Park, Wellsville and other towns in the county to fall in line and rally to the good roads movement.

AGGIES WIND UP SEASON AT WELLSVILLE

The Utah Aggie basketball squad will play its last game of the season with the Wellsville Athletic Club at Wellsville on Saturday night at 8:30. The two teams have not met this year or last, but in 1914, when Wellsville won the northern division championship the teams met at U. A. C. gymnasium, the Aggies winning the game, and then they met at Wellsville for the second game, Wellsville winning by a small score.

With Wellsville using the same lineup against the Aggies that they used before they should give the Aggies a close game in the Wellsville hall. Coach Ostlie is taking ten men on the trip.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR SISTER BARRATT

Funeral services were held yesterday at 2 p. m. in the Fourth ward meeting house over the remains of Mrs. Esther Barrett one of the pioneers of this valley. Bishop John H. Anderson presided and the ward choir furnished the following music: Jesus Lover of My Soul; Guide Me to Thee; and Rest. A solo was rendered by Miss Tillie Johnson. The opening prayer was offered by Elder Anthon Anderson. The benediction was pronounced by Elder Abraham Jorgenson.

Thomas Morgan was the first speaker. He said that he had known Sister Barrett since 1862 and bore testimony to her noble life and good works. The speaker referred to the early days in Logan and stated that in those days there were no classifications but all seemed to be on an equal and the people got better acquainted than we do nowadays. Brother Morgan made comparisons of the Christian faith regarding the resurrection and showed the beauties in the belief of the Latterday Saints.

Sister Lucy Cardon paid tribute to Sister Barrett as a neighbor and friend. She encouraged the people to visit the old people living in our midst and give them all the cheer and comfort we possibly can.

Patriarch George R. Hill referred to the resurrection and the different degrees of glory that we may obtain through our faithfulness in this life. The speaker stated that there would be plenty of work to do upon the other side.

Orson F. Smith said that next to his mother he remembered and loved Sister Barrett and paid high tribute to the life of the deceased.

President S. F. Ballif stated that Sister Barrett had been a pioneer indeed and had tasted the bitter of this life. The speaker said that she had gone to her reward and there she would not lack for friends. As many of them has already passed to the other side.

Bishop Anderson in his closing remarks testified to the truthfulness of the things that had been said and in behalf of the family thanked all those present.

Mrs. Esther Barrett died Wednesday morning, after having been bedfast for some time. Anthrax was the cause of her death. She was 83 years of age and is survived by four sons: C. P., Alma, Albert, all of Logan; and Arthur, of Ogden.

THE PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW

Just at the present time there seems to be quite a lot of argument as to which is really the best phonograph on the market. We feel that it is an injustice to the merits of any phonograph for any person to assume that he or she is an authority, especially in most cases where it is all based on hear say. It is impossible for the public to be judges or critics, especially since there are so many new machines coming out almost every year. It is only natural that we would be in love with the New Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph which has made its appearance before the American public within the last year; and we wish to say that in substance and as evidence of their great superiority over all the others, we offer the use of one of our beautiful machines to be placed beside any other machine on the market for a ten days free tryout in the home of prospective buyers. In such event we will leave it entirely to the customer. You can see by this that we challenge all phonographs or talking machines on the market without restriction. Harris Music Co., Edison dealers.—Adv.

William Bowen the livery stable man is kept pretty busy these days with numerous horse buyers who come to the valley. He will entertain next week Ray Marshall of Denver, and W. A. Fisher of Salt Lake. The dates and the places where they will buy are found in this issue of The Republican.

Quite a large representation of the people of Logan turned out Thursday afternoon to the meeting at the Tabernacle.

The meeting was called by the Relief Society organization and other clubs of the city. Mrs. Martha Carlyle acted as chairman of the meeting and President S. F. Ballif offered prayer. A choir under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Bell Smith furnished the music.

The meeting had been called in connection with the national movement for better baby week. Mrs. George Barber made the opening address. Miss Sarah Bastow of the Budge hospital, talked on the care of the new born baby; baby diseases, how to prevent emergency cases etc.

Dr. E. S. Budge lectured on the child, from its infancy, and gave valuable instructions of the care of the child from the time of birth to mature years.

Mrs. A. H. Thompson treated the subject of baby's wardrobe and illustrated her lecture by showing different pieces of clothing to be used for the child while indoors.

NEWS FROM B. Y. COLLEGE

C. N. Jensen, president of the B. Y. College reached home from attendance at the Superintendent's division of the National Educational Association on Thursday evening. In addition to the attendance at the convention President Jensen availed himself of the opportunity of visits and investigations of Normal and High Schools and some important firms and manufactories.

The B. Y. C. drama, The Man From Home, is now ready to be presented to the public. It is to be presented at least seven times, the first performance occurring tonight at Providence; the second in Smithfield on Monday, March 6; on Tuesday, and Wednesday, March 7 and 8 it will be presented in Nibley Hall; on Friday, March 10 it goes to Preston, and on Monday, March 13, it plays in Brigham. Other places are bidding for the company but on account of costume contracts and the pressure of school work the management may find it impossible to accept.

The following is the cast of characters, a cast which with the month's work of drill ought to give a very acceptable presentation of The Man From Home:

.....	Ethel Granger Simpson
.....	Larue Peterson
.....	Comtesse de Champigny
.....	Adeline Kunz
.....	Luella Anderson
.....	Danief Voorhees Pike
.....	Norman Salisbury
.....	Orlo Hyde
.....	Earl of Hawcastle
.....	Rulon Maughan
.....	The Honorable Almeric St. Aubyn
.....	R. S. Zimmerman

.....	Horace Granger Simpson
.....	Morris Christensen

The debate between the College team and the High School champions will be held Monday, March 6 at 9:25 in the Nibley Hall. George Hickman, Marvin Jensen, and Scott Lowe are to represent the College team. John Bistline, Leslie Nuhn and E. L. Hanson are to represent the third year class as the winners of the high school.

Five of the six persons to compose the teams to debate with the Weber Academy and the L. D. S. U. have been chosen. They are L. C. Hanson, Leslie Nuhn, George W. Hickman, Eleanor Hendricks and Rulon Maughan. The debate with the Weber Academy will be held in Ogden shortly after April 1. The state high school question, the Monroe Doctrine is to be the proposition discussed.

B. Y. C. has the affirmative side. The basketball team reached home Thursday night, defeated in score, but rather victors in spirit. The boys got together and played good ball again, in both games. In both the U. of U. and the Provo game they, B. Y. C., played a tie in the first half; but their opponents as usual, proved too much in the second. Indeed, in the Provo game within nine minutes of the end the Logan players were nine points ahead. Coach Roberts then put in Eggeston, the old star of last year, a brother of Eggeston who plays regularly with Provo. A spurt was made which left the "C" boys one point to the bad. Considering the phenomenal game the U. of U. is playing this year, especially in the light of their recent victory over the Olympic team from California who had a record of a 15 to 0 record in its favor before they met the U. of U. considering this the B. Y. C. boys feel that 22 to 38 wasn't a very bad record. The boys are glad the season is over.

Their playing so long with the good school work each is doing has been a strain on their powers.

Conrad Carlson, an old student, and a graduate of the B. Y. C. played two piano solos in devotional on Thursday.

John Willison is very ill. Mrs. Willison has telegraphed to Seattle to her mother Mrs. Rosie Emier to come to Logan and assist her in the nursing of her husband.

SOUTH CACHE HIGH SCHOOL NEWS ITEMS

Hyrum, March 2.—The High School in the rural community has somewhat different functions to perform than the city high school, especially as far as its instruction work is concerned. Its curriculum must, if it is to be entirely successful, be of such a nature as to fit well into the community life of the people in whose midst it is found. The students on leaving the high school should have had such training as well make it possible for them to more successfully do the work of their respective communities.

The South Cache High School has for its aim the training of the students to the point where, when they leave its influence to take up their life's work, they will feel that the preparation they have received is of value to them and sufficient remuneration for time spent there. With this aim in view the faculty are endeavoring to so present the outlined work of the various courses that they will be of practical value as well as give pleasure for the knowing of them.

All of the work presented in agriculture is directly applicable to local conditions. Some of the work could probably be more efficient if facilities would permit. The course in irrigation is of special importance to our locality. This course aims to teach the best methods and practices in handling irrigation waters and systems, and the boys who are taking this course will no doubt, go forth very well prepared to direct and carry out correctly this important part of our agricultural work.

In the mechanic arts, domestic science and other departments the students are taking great interest and pleasure in the work which they are doing, because of its practical nature and the possibility of its use when they leave school.

Accounting is a subject generally considered of little importance in a commercial way, and only of use to the business man. Every person ought to have some knowledge of business methods. Many of our farmers are beginning to realize the fact that to be successful in the future they must adopt more business methods in their farming operations. Many, however, feel that it is sufficient if they just keep an account of their receipts and expenditures, but this will not suffice in a well conducted business. They should know which parts of their farming operations were profitable and which were not.

In order that some of the students may go out prepared to handle this situation, the boys in the second year accounting will soon begin a study of farm accounting with a special study of cost accounting. The girls will take up a study of household accounting, which is of probably as much importance as farm accounting.

The fourth number of our school paper, The Clarion, made its appearance last Thursday and as all who read it will admit that it is certainly a creditable publication for our students to issue, showing as it does considerable improvement over the former issues.

Last Friday night our basketball team again proved its superiority over our Ogden rivals defeating them by the score of 42 to 22.

Friday night, March 3, we meet our friends from North Cache. This promises to be one of the best games of the season. A large crowd is expected as both schools are determined to carry off the victory. An excellent contest in school spirit is expected from the side lines.

Cove Party Was Not Broken Up

Editor Republican:
Referring to your article in a recent issue of the Republican with reference to the conduct of certain dancers at Cove at the Washington Birthday dancing party, permit me to state that the facts will not bear out the article as written. The party referred to was not broken up except that certain persons who were at the dance were given a "calling down" for improper dancing.
Respectfully, J. C. LARSEN.

PROVIDENCE PEOPLE JOIN IN PARTY

Providence, March 2.—A birthday party was held on Tuesday evening at Providence in honor of Elizabeth Mathews Campbell, the occasion being her 11st birthday. There were about forty Daughters present including their husbands.

The program began with a hymn and prayer by Mrs. Mary Marlor; a vocal solo by Anona Campbell; remarks by Bishop Campbell; a biographical sketch of the life of Elizabeth Campbell by her daughter, Mary Bullock; solo by Margaret Hammond; Mrs. Crabtree was also on the program and a quartet was given by the following brothers: H. The citizens of Providence are all in good health, and are looking forward to a prosperous year from the fact that there has been so much snow this winter.

There are a few of our citizens that have colds but are on the road to recovery. Included among these are Elizabeth R. Campbell and Ella Campbell.

The stock recently visited the following homes: George Kendrick, M. Y. Mathews and George M. Pickett.

ROBIN HOOD ENTERTAINMENT

The best musical treat Logan has had in years was given Thursday night in the Lyric theater when the De Koven Opera Company presented Robin Hood in one of the nation's funniest and most tuneful comic operas.

There was no time from the rise of the curtain until the finale of the last act that the company was not loudly applauded for the charming choruses, trios, duets and solos that were sung by persons with exceptional musical talent.

The stage settings were beautiful. The costumes were elaborate and the cast of characters from the Sheriff of Nottingham to Robin Hood were selected to represent their various parts as being especially fitted to the part.

Exceptionally good was the orchestra conducted by Mr. De Francesco. This part of the entertainment however, was furnished largely by local talent but strengthened in places by members of the De Koven Company.

Pace Is Terrific Here In Logan

The following jocularity appeared in the Salt Lake Telegram of a recent date:

Leon Browning, a deputy in the office of the state treasurer, is recovering slowly from the effects of an ice cream cabaret party at Logan, at which he was a guest Saturday evening.

Logan is in dry territory, but that is no reason why the young people who have a liking for the bright lights should deny themselves. To satisfy the ultramodern desires of the fashionable a caterer has established an ice cream cabaret.

The patrons sit around and drink chocolate "soddy" and then one with a dash of genuine deviltry drops a nickel in the piano slot and the giddy dance begins.

About 5 o'clock in the afternoon the real hilarity begins, but instead of popping champagne corps the fizz of nut sundaes is heard, and the gay life continues until as late as seven o'clock at night.

"The pace is terrific," Browning says.
